PART 3. CHOOSE YOUR COVERAGE TIER AND PAYROLL DEDUCTION AMOUNT

The amount that you will pay towards your coverage through payroll deduction will depend on the tier of coverage that you select. By checking the box for your selected tier, you are authorizing this weekly payroll deduction in the amount shown. You will not be able to add, change or rescind your coverage and associated payroll deduction until the next open enrollment period, except as permitted by the Notice of Special Enrollment Rights.

SPECIAL NOTE ON COORDINATION OF BENEFITS (COB): Prior to choosing to enroll your dependent(s) for benefits, you should review how this Fund will coordinate payment with any other health insurance that your dependent(s) may have. This Fund utilizes Non-Duplication Coordination of Benefits for medical coverage. This means that when this Fund pays on a secondary basis, it will only pay the difference in what the Fund would have paid if it had been primary and what the other coverage actually paid as primary. For example, if you have a $100 medical claim and this Fund would have paid $80 if it was primary and the other coverage actually paid $80, then the difference is $0 and this Fund will not pay any additional amounts. This Fund provides no secondary coverage for prescription drugs. Dual Employees and COB – If you are covered as both an employee and a dependent under this Fund, the Non-Duplication COB methodology will not apply to you and your medical claims will be coordinated up to 100% of the total allowed charge for medical and prescription drugs.

HEALTH SCREENINGS: If it was required and you did not complete your health (biometric) screening by November 30, 2020, your co-premium for Full Coverage will include a risk premium. The election options below show the co-premiums with and without the screening. The risk premium does not apply to employees enrolling in Ancillary Coverage.
